<SELECTED PROJECTS />

The Berlin Around

Astro | MDX | SEO | Multilingual Architecture

A multilingual travel publication sounds like a content problem until it starts scaling. Then it becomes a systems problem: six locales, stable article identities, translated routes, image ownership, internal links, structured metadata, freshness, indexability, and a growing relationship graph that all have to remain correct together.

Hutlify

Vue 3 | TypeScript | tRPC | Local-First Architecture

Designed and built a local-first developer workspace that brings projects, terminals, scripts, ports, logs, and development workflows into a unified browser interface. Focused on application architecture, developer experience, and reducing workflow fragmentation without introducing unnecessary cloud dependencies.

Descubre Balcanes

Astro | Tailwind CSS | SEO | Performance

Designed and developed a travel-focused digital experience combining visual design, content architecture, performance optimization, and search discoverability to support user engagement and business goals.

Fliplingua

React | Mobile-first | Learning UX

Built a mobile-first language-learning application using React, featuring interactive flashcards, localized study experiences, and repeatable practice flows. Focused on intuitive learning interactions, responsive UI, and user engagement.

Writing Hearth

React | TypeScript | Node | Neon | PostgreSQL

Built a full-stack creative writing workspace for managing novels, chapters, characters, timelines, and structured creative workflows. Combines application architecture, data modeling, and user-centered interface design.

<Codinify />

React | TypeScript | Node | Supabase | PostgreSQL

Developed an interactive coding and typing practice platform featuring multiple programming languages, progression tracking, scoring, achievements, authentication, and leaderboards. Focused on responsive interactions, product UX, and full-stack functionality.
